Highway Auto Crashes Here Take 3 Lives

Charles Parmley, 33, Two Alton Men Killed; 10 Injured Seriously

Two fatal highway collisions occurred immediately north of Granite City Saturday night, taking three lives and seriously injuring ten persons.

The dead are: Charles R. Parmley, 33, of 4552 Walter avenue, Granite City, 56, Alton. Wesley R. Jones, Alton. Mr. Parmley, an A. O. Smith Corp. welder for the past 12 years, died at 10:40 p.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, two hours after a three-car collision on Route 203, the extension of Nantoni road, at Harrison avenue.

State police said the other auto was driven by Harold L. Hinds, 53, of 4724 Nantoni road, Mrs. Beverly Turner, 43, Rural Route One, Troy, Ill. Hinds was unconscious when admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Critical injuries were suffered by Mrs. Rose Mary Hughes, 16, Victorville, Calif., a passenger in the Turner car. She had severe contusions to the face and chest and lacerations to the right hand and both knees.

She is in fair condition today. Mrs. Turner was dazed when brought to the hospital, and her daughter, Gail, 10 years old, had a head injury and possible internal injuries. Another daughter, Jan Ann, six, also was rushed by ambulance to the hospital for treatment.

Sudden Swoon Described
State police said the northbound Parmley auto appeared to have suddenly in the southbound lane and was hit in the right side by the southbound car of Mrs. Turner.

The northbound Hinds auto then hit the left rear of the Parmley car and went off the left side of the road into a small ditch. The other two autos remained on the pavement and continued on.

Mr. Parmley, a native Granitic, was a lifelong local resident. He was married to Mrs. Jeanne Parmley, one brother, Sixth Ward Alderman Gerald Parmley, Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Phyllis Moss, Granite City; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parmley, Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column. Head-On Collision
In a Route Three head-on collision at the curve near the Granite City dog pound at 1:20 a.m. Sunday, Mr. Terry was driving north, with Mr. Jones as his passenger, and Norman Thomas, 26, East St. Louis, was driving south.

Both Alton men were pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Thomas was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital Saturday for multiple hematomas suffered in a motorcycle mishap.

Victor J. Gehring, 16, of 2250 Benton street suffered minor injuries and his motorcycle was damaged extensively at 1:45 p.m. Saturday at 12th street and Madison avenue, Madison.

An auto driven by Constantine Michaleff, 1401 Twenty-seventh street, was headed south on Madison avenue and making a left turn onto 12th street, when it was headed north and was thrown over the hood of the car.

He learned he had run over a man who was sleeping in the garage. The elderly Cox was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Miss Barbara Holtkamp, 16, of 1620 Burt street, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for bruising to the nose and knees received Friday when she lost control of her turn onto 12th street, a tree at 1732 Courtney blvd., and had extensive damage to its front end.

Total of 24 Hurt During Weekend; 26 Auto Crashes

Three persons were hurt fatally and 24 others were injured in 26 weekend traffic crashes in the Quad-City area. The three persons killed and ten of the injured were involved in two separate accidents described in another article.

In addition, a bar stool near the front of the Kieffer's Lounge tavern, 1901 Adams street, at 1:55 Saturday, Frank Moro, 63, St. Louis, was injured slightly when a car crashed into the building. He was struck by a wall beam knocked through the air by the impact of the vehicle.

The auto was that of Helen Sanders, 54, of 2801 Denver street, whose westbound vehicle had been struck in the right rear by the front of the southbound car of Stanley Bates, 18, Brookside. Bates was charged with a stop sign violation.

In addition to hitting the tavern, the Sanders car struck the rear of the parked auto of Woodrow Dilday, 2618 Harding blvd., at 1:55 Saturday, Frank Moro, 63, St. Louis, was injured slightly when a car crashed into the building.

Press-Record bar was moved several inches and a cooler was badly damaged. There were about seven patrons at the time.

Lloyd Watts, 2837 Pershing avenue, Mrs. Phyllis Moss, Granite City; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parmley, Granite City.

Auto-Motorcycle Crash
A motorcycleist, Robert W. Miller, 19, Maryville, Ill., was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:45 p.m. Saturday for treatment of injuries suffered when his northbound cycle collided with the southbound car of James Green, 2404 Grand avenue, Madison avenue, at 2:20 a.m. Sunday.

Miller said that when he accelerated for a left turn, his motorcycle reared up and the motor stalled, leaving it in a southerly position. He jumped off the auto as it struck it, he related.

Dennis Hinchcliff, 2235 East 24th street, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital Saturday for multiple hematomas suffered in a motorcycle mishap.

Victor J. Gehring, 16, of 2250 Benton street suffered minor injuries and his motorcycle was damaged extensively at 1:45 p.m. Saturday at 12th street and Madison avenue, Madison.

An auto driven by Constantine Michaleff, 1401 Twenty-seventh street, was headed south on Madison avenue and making a left turn onto 12th street, when it was headed north and was thrown over the hood of the car.

He learned he had run over a man who was sleeping in the garage. The elderly Cox was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Miss Barbara Holtkamp, 16, of 1620 Burt street, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for bruising to the nose and knees received Friday when she lost control of her turn onto 12th street, a tree at 1732 Courtney blvd., and had extensive damage to its front end.

DON'T PARK INSIDE is the appropriate message outside Kieffer's Lounge, 18th and Adams streets, after an auto crashed into the front of the building Saturday. The car broke exterior boards below the window; a temporary wooden barrier has replaced them.

Handling of State's Attorney Funds Assailed, Defended

Handling of finances by State's Attorney Joseph R. Barrylak was strongly criticized in the annual Madison county independent audit released last week by R. Le Schetter & Co. Albany, N.Y. The audit was submitted to the chief judge of the circuit court of Madison county.

The state's attorney's fund includes fines and fees received, from which the audit, said, $20,000 should be deducted. These receipts are to be transferred in their entirety to the county revenue fund, according to the report.

"During the course of our examination, we were requested to make a special examination of the receipts and disbursements of the funds of the state's attorney for the period from Dec. 7, 1964, to June 22, 1966, and a report was submitted to the chief judge of the circuit court of Madison county."

"This special report indicated that certain disbursements were made for other than county purposes in an amount exceeding $26,000 and were not reimbursed as of our report dated June 22, 1966; however, all such amounts were remitted to the county treasurer on June 24, 1966."

Salary Advances
The amount included a salary advance to an assistant state attorney, salary advances to the state's attorney of $2000, fines received and not included on previous quarterly reports to the chief judge of the circuit court, and expenditures which appeared to be either of a personal nature or in connection with his private law practice, the report asserted.

As of Dec. 31, 1965, expenditures of this nature resulted in an account receivable from the state's attorney of $17,153, which was included in the remittance to the county treasurer on June 24, 1966, the report continued.

"We are not attorneys and are therefore unable to express an opinion as to the statutory compliance of the above-mentioned disbursements of the state's attorney," the auditors said.

Suggest Legal Advice
"We suggest that legal advice be obtained in connection with this matter."

The auditors made several recommendations and a suggestion for improvement in handling of the funds of the state's attorney.

"No salary advances should be made to either the state's attorney or his assistants from the state's attorney's funds."

"No other disbursements should be made except for timely remittances of excess fees to the county revenue fund."

"If legally possible, earnings of the state's attorney's office should be remitted directly to the county treasurer, eliminating the need of handling the funds by the state's attorney."

Unofficial Disbursements
The audit showed a salary advance of $2000 for the state's attorney.

Meat Worth $500 Stolen
Thieves broke the padlock off an outside cooler door at Schermer Brothers Market, 12th street and Madison avenue, about 1:30 a.m. Saturday and escaped with approximately 100 pounds of picnic calicoes, hams and lunch meat despite the fact that the cooler was alarmed.

Police reported they were called by a resident in the neighborhood of the store who said she heard an alarm and looked out the window. She saw two men throw something in a car and drive away. The men were arrested at the police station to determine if their male companions were in jail. They were released on $500 bail.

Glass in a door was broken to gain entry. Police said they were notified by a caller who wished to remain anonymous.

McKinley Bridge Projects Scheduled

$326,900 Improvements Budgeted for 1966-67; $20,000 for Underpass

Adopting its annual McKinley Bridge replacement and improvement budget Friday night, the Granite City Board of Public Works approved a $326,900 ceiling on expenditures but noted that only about $120,000 is expected to be available.

The items budgeted were $105,000 to clean and paint all steelwork main spans and $192,000 to install bridge railings on the main span and Venice approach.

Also budgeted were repair of cracked concrete coping, $2600; repair of spalled curbing on the Venice approach, $1500; repair and rehabilitation of automatic toll equipment, $4000; straightening of pole and replacement of bridge railing on the Venice approach, $2000.

Annual Bridge Inspection
The 1966-67 replacement and improvement budget is based on recommendations contained in an annual bridge inspection report by Consulting Engineers Hardy & Hanover of New York, accepted during Friday's council meeting.

The R & I account receives $20,000 from bridge revenue and is expected to have a balance of about $40,000 after current projects are completed.

Two other topics considered during the brief formal meeting, which followed a lengthy discussion, were City Controller Carl Byrnes said he expects to receive the report of the inspection by Collector Frank Reidelberger Jr. and Building Inspector Leo Davy.

Byrnes asked City Attorney Harry E. Hartman to check East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. responsibility in extending water mains to a proposed new residence on the north side of the 600 block of Fillmore street.

Housing for Elderly
Mayor John E. Lee said after the meeting that the city is continuing its exploration of obtaining public housing for the elderly. He said a series of meetings were held several months ago as a possible partial solution for the expected displacement of elderly residents by Federal Aid Route 151.

The city withdrew designation of the McKinley Bridge as a project of the city by the Department of Housing and Urban Development following construction of the bridge.

Seek Federal Aid For New Park in West Granite

The Granite City park district will proceed immediately with preparation of an application for federal assistance in establishing a new public park in the West Granite City area, Park Board President Paul Schuler said Saturday.

The announcement was made after a delegation of park district officials and Granite City Mayor Donald Partney conferred in Chicago Thursday with James Horowitz, a regional official of the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Department concerning availability of federal grants.

Attending the Chicago meeting were Schuler, Commissioners Barry Loman and William W. Schuler, and City Engineer Henry Gabriel, Park Attorney Randall Robertson and Mayor Partney.

Schuler said the group was informed federal assistance probably will be available for the proposed new West Granite City park on an equal-share basis.

Schuler pointed out, however, that under regulations governing the use of federal funds, a park district would be required to acquire the land and create a park with its own funds. The government then would reimburse the park district for 50% of the cost.

"I receive the guarantee of federal aid," he said, "but the district must file an application with HUD and obtain approval of its plans."

Cost Underestimated
Cost of establishing the new park has not been fully determined, Schuler said, but details are to be worked out immediately.

A proposed park site of up to 10 acres in size is under consideration, the board president said.

Schuler said a general discussion of federal aid for park purposes indicated funds also may be available for improvement of Worthen Park.

He said the group also discussed a program under which various organizations engaged in vocational, rehabilitation and recreational activities might be coordinated from a single center. Funds would be available for discussion again at 8 o'clock tonight when the Granite City council convenes in regular session.

To End Defense In Stamps Trial
Defense attorneys were expected to complete their case today in the murder trial of John Edward Menard Jr., charged with slaying three prisoners in a riot last Nov. 23.

The defense last bid Friday to put the issue of the death penalty before the jury by introducing evidence as a magazine article about capital punishment which showed a large picture of a man being executed.

The jury qualified to order the death penalty.

Circuit Judge Creel Douglas overruled the motion to introduce the matter as evidence, pointing out that capital punishment may be a debatable topic but that it is still the law.

Meanwhile, State's Attorney Howard Clotfelter of Randolph county, who argued that the nation should be made aware of the deaths of men who have testified in the trial that they were involved in fatal beatings of Menard prisoners.

"I can't sit here and listen to stories about murders in Randolph county and not do anything," Clotfelter said. Convicts have said on the stand they were members of a "goon squad" who beat other prisoners for rule infractions on orders from prison officials.

County Museum Closes
The Madison County Historical Museum at Edwardsville will be closed at least until Labor Day, due to the death of Curran A. Edson Smith and staff vacation. It was reported Friday, Mrs. Lou Ann Edson is assistant superintendent of the museum.

Schools Expect 5% Enrollment Rise Next Week

Projected Attendance For Area Is 19,819; Opening Dates Set

Quadrant public and parochial schools will open the fall term next week with a total projected enrollment of 19,819 pupils, school officials announced today.

The anticipated attendance as classes are resumed under varying schedules is an increase of 88 pupils or 5% over actual enrollment in the Granite City, Madison and Venice public schools and this area's six parochial schools last year.

Attendance at all schools during the 1965-66 school year was 18,931.

13,959 in GC District
In the Granite City school district, Supt. Russell D. Johnson has announced a projected enrollment of 13,959 for the new school term, but pointed out that the basis of past experience this figure might drop by 300 to 400.

Last year, just prior to the opening of schools, the projected enrollment was 14,062, but in September the actual enrollment proved to be 13,284.

In fixing projected figures for the approaching term, Supt. Johnson said, an attempt was made to "lighten up" on the potential spread between projected figures and actual attendance.

3060 Madison Enrollment
Supt. Wensel Brown of the Madison school district said projected enrollment for the district's six schools has been set at 3060.

This would be an increase of 50 pupils over last year's actual attendance of 3010.

Man Sought For Setting Fire to Family's House

A man who allegedly threw two fire bombs Saturday night into the six-room, frame house owned by the family of a woman and her six children, is being sought by Venice police.

The house, located at 113 Slough road, Venice, burned to the ground. An explosion, apparently in the northwest corner of the dwelling, preceded the fire, which rapidly enveloped the house.

Venice firemen, who were called at 9:40 p.m. Saturday, said the fire had gained so much headway by the time they were called that there was no hope of saving the building. Six adults and four children who were in the house at the time escaped without injury.

Police said they are seeking a woman, who resided at 1029 Calhoun street, on the basis of information given them by his wife, Mrs. Vera Wright.

Mrs. Wright told police that her husband came to the house Friday night and told her "it would be a shame if I burned down the house with you and the children in it." The six Wright children range in age from one to seven years of age.

Threat to Burn House
On Saturday afternoon, she said, Wright appeared again at the house and told her "it would be a shame if I burned down the house with you and the children in it." The six Wright children range in age from one to seven years of age.

On Paint Damage

George Mollique, 76,
Former Resident, Dies

Determination of responsibility for air pollution conditions that have caused paint discoloration in areas of Granite City will be sought by the Granite City Air Pollution Commission after it filed a formal complaint against the city of Independence, Mo. Boker, chairman of the commission, announced.

The procedure was decided upon in a special meeting of the Air Pollution Board at the city hall Thursday night.

At that time, Boker explained, a discussion was held on a study of air pollution conditions made by the St. Louis Testing Laboratory. It has attributed paint damage to hydrogen sulphide.

Dr. Edwin Hoelscher of Washington University, newly-appointed technical secretary of the air pollution board, will prepare a formal complaint as a means of officially bringing the matter before the commission.

The board then will study all facts involved and decide where the weight of responsibility lies. If the board so decides, a public hearing then may be held. An opportunity for defense would be permitted during the hearing.

A meeting of the air council commission will be called as soon as the formal complaint is prepared, Boker said.

Four Arrested in

Venice Copper Theft

Three youths, all residents of Eagle Park Acres, were named Friday in warrants charging theft following their capture in St. Louis. They are charged with stealing a large roll of copper wire from G. M. & O railroad property at County road and Merchants Bridge highway.

Venice police said they were called at 2:40 p.m. Aug. 17 by a St. Louis maintenance man for the G. M. & O who had seen the youths load the wire into a car.

The trio was turned over to the St. Louis police until warrants were obtained in Venice. The youths waived extradition and were returned to Venice.

A 15-year-old boy was with the three older youths. His case was referred to the juvenile officer. He was identified as one of those who loaded the wire into the car, according to police.

Arrested were Eugene Sanders, 18, of Bend Road, William Lucas Jr., 20, of 186 Hill street, Eagle Park, and Eugene Foster, 21, of 218 Watson street, Eagle Park.

They were arraigned in magistrate's court Friday and bonds were set at $200 cash or $4000 property for each.

College Student Partially Sighted Pupils Total 98,000

The Illinois Guaranteed Loan Program is authorized to guarantee $14,000,000 in college student loans made by private lenders during the 1964-65 school year. Any student who is a resident of Illinois, a citizen of the U. S., and accepted for full-time enrollment at an approved educational institution in the United States is eligible to apply.

Lenders are not permitted to charge more than 6 1/2 percent interest on these loans. If the annual income of the student's family is below $15,000 (and in some cases below $20,000), the federal government will pay all of the interest while the student is enrolled full-time and one-half or 3/8 after the student leaves college.

Students have six years after cessation of full-time study to repay the loans. The first Granite City National Bank and Granite City Trust & Savings Bank are participants.

Four hundred and eighty-three lenders throughout the state have agreed to make these loans, which are secured by residential funds appropriated by the General Assembly of Illinois and supplemented by the United States Office of Education. If educational expenses are sufficient, a student may borrow to a maximum of $100 during his freshman year and $1500 for each school year thereafter.

The financial aids office of every participating college in Illinois has a supply of applications. Students attending out-of-state colleges may obtain an application from a participating lending institution by writing to the Illinois Guaranteed Loan Program, Box 33, Deerfield, Ill., 60015.

Lucky Find — Yard Full Of Four-Leaf Clovers

If discovering a single four-leaf clover brings the finder the luck attributed to it, what kind of a lucky future is in store for someone finding a yard-full, plus several five-leaf and a six-leaf variety?

Pondering the question and wondering what lucky break may come her way is Mrs. Barbara Harris, 2932 Sinclair avenue, who accidentally stumbled across an entire patch of the four-leaf variety last week while working near her rose bushes.

Admittedly "slightly superstitious," Mrs. Harris has found four-leaf clovers on previous occasions, but always one at a time.

She was even more startled while picking the four-leaf kind to discover at least 15 of the five-leaf variety and one six-leaf. The local woman said her husband, Herschel R. Harris, who is employed at General Steel Industries, was cutting the lawn at the time she found the lucky clover patch.

This is the second in a series of three National Society for the Prevention of Blindness articles on vision problems in children, how they can be recognized and what can be done to avoid them.

Frequently the question is posed as to who is the partially seeing child. In brief, he is one with a visual limitation that may interfere with learning at school even after best possible correction has been made on his eyes.

Approximately 98,000 American school children are partially sighted individuals.

Because a child himself, his parents or his teachers may not know he has limited vision, eye examinations are essential before entering school and periodically throughout his school life.

Visual limitations may not be evident through casual observation but often are discovered through the follow-up of a referral from a pre-school vision screening.

Pupils who have had their vision corrected may not know they have a change in their eyes checked at regular intervals to ascertain if there is a change that requires further treatment.

Some of the manifestations of eye defects may be indicated by the following behavior patterns, appearance or symptoms:

Attempts to brush away blur, rubs eyes excessively, frowns. Shuts or covers one eye, tilts head or thrusts it forward.

Difficulty in reading or work requiring close use of eyes. Blinks more than usual, cries often, is irritable when doing school work.

Stumbles or trips over small objects. Holds books or small objects close to eyes.

Is unable to participate in games requiring distant vision. Is unduly sensitive to light.

Has red-rimmed, encrusted or inflamed eyelids; recurring sties; inflamed, watery or crossed eyes.

Experiences dizziness, headaches or nausea following close eye work.

Restlessness, lack of interest in reading or other activities requiring prolonged close use of eyes.

The education of partially seeing children requires thoughtful planning. Since their physical, mental, emotional and social development is similar to that of children with normal vision, it is recommended that their educational environment and opportunities also differ as little as possible.

In most cases they can be included in an ordinary school program if supplementary services and facilities are made available, such as:

1. A resource room where special equipment and educational materials are available for use by the partially seeing as their need is determined by the special and classroom teachers.

2. The itinerant teacher plan, providing a visiting special teacher who works with the regular classroom teacher to give help to these individualized students.

A standard school curriculum can be followed, except that there may be limitations on prolonged eye work and physical or recreational activity.

Any necessary adjustments may be determined by the school in conjunction with an eye specialist. If glasses are worn, safety lenses and frames should be prescribed.

Visually handicapped children may need books in large type on unglazed paper, typewriters with large type, mechanical devices such as tape recorders, talking books, record players and appropriate low vision aids.

They usually require a greater amount of illumination and should receive preferential seating for chalkboard and chart work.

Important, too, is that the teachers of the partially seeing have special preparation to give them the competence necessary to deal effectively with the physical, psychological and educational problems arising from impairment of vision.

Only 19% of the 98,000 partially seeing children now have proper educational assistance. The National Society also works to aid parents to understand and accept the fact that such children do not require over-protection and can succeed when special educational services and facilities are provided.

A partially seeing child can learn to live independently if he is helped and taught to be a well-adjusted, self-reliant person.

For more information on the partially seeing child, write: Prevent Blindness, Box 426, New York, New York 10019.

A Headache Is A Headache Is A Headache ? ?

Remember Gertrude Stein's phrase "a rose is a rose is a rose"? We know that a rose is always a rose, but a headache isn't always just a headache. It is a WARNING . . . a red flag on the highway of health. True, it may come from over-indulgence the evening before, but it is still a warning that you did just that.

The average disease has as one of its symptoms a headache, but . . . the headache, unless caused by some noxious food, is a distress signal of a deeper maladjustment of the body. A headache is a signal of a vertebral misalignment which, unless corrected, may lead not only to worse headaches, but even to more serious conditions.

In migraine headaches, the symptoms are an excruciating pain in the head accompanied by nausea, vomiting, disturbed vision, and sensitivity to light and sound. Mental exertion is often impossible. Thousands of x-ray pictures of migraine sufferers have been studied, and every picture shows that a vertebra in the neck is misaligned. In correcting this misalignment — or subluxation — chiropractors have achieved striking success with migraine cases.

The taking of headache remedies is far too prevalent. There is always a reason for a headache and the most intelligent approach to the headache should be looked into before the "pill palliative path" becomes too well established.

Some of the most serious problems of the body are first announced by the persistent headache. Don't be lulled to sleep by the thought that a headache is a headache is a headache! It can be the first warning of "something wrong" in a remote part of the body. Only your chiropractor knows for sure!

Mrs. Wright said she and two of her children, along with five other persons, were in the house when the explosion occurred. Among these were Mrs. Betty Brown, Mrs. Wright's sister, and two of her children. Four of Mrs. Wright's children were playing outside.

State's Atty.

torney, and disbursements of $12,318 from his account from Oct. 21, 1965, to Dec. 31, 1965, for purposes other than county business.

It also showed a check for $2840 received from the county clerk for fines on May 28, 1965, neither deposited in the bank account nor included in his quarterly reports to the chief judge during 1965.

However, the report continued, this item was included in a special report dated last June 24 requested by the chief judge for the period beginning Dec. 7, 1964, through June 24, 1965.

"All of the above items were remitted to the county treasurer on June 24, together with other funds accumulated after Dec. 31, 1965," the report said.

Explanation by Barylak

Defending his actions, Barylak said the state's attorney's fund was not used by him for either personal expenses or private law practice expenses.

Barylak said the fund was not used by him for either personal expenses or private law practice expenses.

The state's attorney said an auditing firm was apparently referring to county funds he had deposited in a "trustees account" earlier this year in a Collinsville bank.

"I changed the depository concerning state's attorney's funds from one bank to another," Barylak said. "In the course of doing that, until I had received printed checks from the new bank and the things set up properly, I deposited some county funds in the trustee account until the checks had been cleared on the account."

The state's attorney said the trustees account had always been at the Collinsville bank where he transferred the state's attorney's funds.

"The trustees account is monitored by the depository to somebody else, and is not used by me for personal purposes," Barylak said. "It may contain funds belonging to other clients or someone else. That's why I personally put in 'the state's attorney's funds' in there."

Barylak said the state's attorney's funds were "immediately" transferred from the trustees account to the county account as soon as the bank change was finalized.

Barylak said he transferred the state's attorney's funds to the Collinsville bank "because I did all my banking there."

"The assistant state's attorney and the bank 'because I did all my banking there' are all paid only once every three months. And under the circumstances, I did not feel it was improper in making the advances since the law provides that funds received by my office are to be used to defray the expenses of the operation of this office."

Non-County Purposes

Barylak explained items which the auditing firm had designated "for other than county purposes" as follows:

Number one, it is true that on several occasions salary advances were made to assistants and on one occasion to myself. Now I considered this to be legally proper since the law provides that all fees, fines and forfeitures are to be used to defray the expenses of the state's attorney's office.

However, Barylak authorized, he would not, unless authorized by the chief judge, again make salary advances either to assistants or himself.

"Because the auditors have made an issue of it, I respect the fact that I think it was a proper expenditure. I do not intend to make any further salary advances without an express order from the chief judge."

Barylak, in referring to the audit's finding that fines received by his office were not included on previous quarterly reports to the chief judge said:

"I did get a check for $2840 for state's attorney's fees in May from the county clerk's office and I included it in that quarterly report. It was just an oversight."

Barylak differed with the auditing firm in that quarterly report it had made "for the improvement of handling funds of the state's attorney."

"I have an investigation fund and I have an administrative fund. It is necessary for me to make disbursements out of those funds in order to properly carry out the functions of my office."

The other suggestion, Barylak said, was "contrary to state law."

"The statutes say all funds should be turned over to the state's attorney and remitted quarterly to the county treasurer with a report of all receipts. The funds used 'for other than county purposes' were not reimbursed as of the auditor's June 2 report but were remitted to county treasurer George Musso on June 24, the audit report said.

Barylak filed a court-ordered report itemizing $133,158 in fines, fees and forfeitures received by his office from Dec. 7, 1964, to June 24, 1966.

MCKINLEY BRIDGE

the Lee Wright and Venice Homes projects, but has now resumed talks with the county authority.

Possibility of adding portable radio units and a guard dog to the police department is being studied, along with a Union Electric Co. request to construct a high-voltage line along the riverfront, crossing the McKinley Bridge at a high elevation, Mayor Lee said.

In connection with proposed resurfacing of Hampden street at the point where it connects with Broadway immediately east of the railroad crossing, acquisition of additional right-of-way is being sought.

With youngsters having dug deep caves near the 1300 block of McKinley avenue, plans were made to fill the caves in during the weekend to eliminate hazards.

Possible urban renewal programs are awaiting development of a city plan by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, the mayor reported.

Seebold Co. Low Bidder on Canal Lock Alteration

Col. Edwin R. Decker, district engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, announced today that bids have been opened in the district office for alteration and repair of the 1200-foot main canal lock, Mississippi River, at Granite City, Illinois.

The apparent low bid of three bids received was submitted by A. H. Seebold Truck and Excavating Co. of Granite City. Its bid was $182,887.50.

The work consists of alterations to the low sill, repairing the lock wall protection where damaged or missing due to wear and tear on the lock walls, and painting lift gate and walkway bridge.

The work is expected to be completed in about 100 days after the contractor receives notice to proceed.

Navigation interests have been notified that the main lock will be closed to river traffic on or about Sept. 6 for a period lasting until mid-winter. Vessels desiring lockage during that period will be required to use the 600-foot auxiliary lock.

The exact date of shutdown will be announced later.

Foundation Scholarships Offered Again in 1966

American Water Works Foundation scholarships, which are being offered again for the coming school year, have been awarded to 27 students since the program was begun in 1961. It is being noted by J. G. Carns Jr., vice-president and manager of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co.

Carns said that at least eight scholarships are awarded each year—four to children of American Water Works Co. System employees, including employees of East St. Louis & Interurban, and four to children of residents served by the local utility and other American System companies.

American Water Works is the nation's largest system of investor-owned water companies, comprising 86 water utilities serving more than 4,500,000 residents of 390 communities in 19 states, including the Quad-Cities. The American Water Works Foundation scholarship program is supported by these companies.

Carns said each four-year scholarship is worth as much as $1000 a year and a minimum of $250 a year. Actual amount of each award depends on the tuition charged by the college selected by a scholarship winner and the financial need of the student. Winners may attend the college of their choice.

The scholarship program is administered by Educational Testing Service, of Princeton, N. J. A scholarship committee of prominent educators determines each year's winners. Folders explaining the program and including application blanks have been distributed to area public and private high schools, where copies may be obtained by interested high school seniors.

Carns said the scholarship program reflects the American Water Works Co. System's philosophy of service to the community and nation.

Rotary Horse Show to Feature 250 Entrants

American Saddle horses and Tennessee Walking horses will be among the more than 250 featured this Sunday, Aug. 28, at the sixth annual All-Western Horse Show.

The show, sponsored by the Granite City Rotary club, will be held at the Tri-City Speedway, 5654 N. Main, near Mitchell.

The above mentioned horses will be only a few of the many that will be ridden in the ladies' and junior pleasure classes. They are thoroughbred which they put on at state and county fairs, horse shows and the "world's greatest show rodeo" throughout the west and midwestern states.

Their running walks and high-stepping gaits are fast but smooth for the riders. Although trot, canter, stepping pace and onlookers often draw back because of this animation, the forerunner of this animation, the American Saddle and several other breeds of horses will be seen in a rider to hold a glass of water on the palm of his hand without spilling a drop.

For a hundred years or more the Tennessee Walking horse has been unique in his action and in his early plucking high over. Junior contestants must be 15 or under and their cause they could easily go 40 or horses 13 hands or over.

50 miles a day with a comfortable gait while their riders would inspect many square miles of crops.

Used by Country Doctors Country doctors, traveling preachers and settlers also used the Tennessee Walker, now one of today's foremost pleasure horses. They are gentle mounts for business and professional people and others not interested in racing on a highstrung horse.

American Saddle horses are well known for the exhibitions classes. They are thoroughbred which they put on at state and county fairs, horse shows and the "world's greatest show rodeo" throughout the west and midwestern states.

Among their many refined and animated gaits are the walk, trot, canter, stepping pace and very-high stepping rack. The Tennessee Walker, American Saddle and several other breeds of horses will be seen in a rider to hold a glass of water on the palm of his hand without spilling a drop.

For a hundred years or more the Tennessee Walking horse has been unique in his action and in his early plucking high over. Junior contestants must be 15 or under and their cause they could easily go 40 or horses 13 hands or over.

Pleasure Event Rules Ten rules are definitely pointed out in this precision event, which is judged on poise and ease of handling while the horses change from gait to gait during their appearances:

1. Horses are to show a walk, trot and lope in both directions around the arena.

2. Rider must not be asked to go from a trot to a lope.

3. Horses will receive a lesser count if they trot while changing from a walk to a lope.

4. Horses must be ridden with a reasonably loose rein, with reins in the left hand at all times.

5. Horse must be on proper leads.

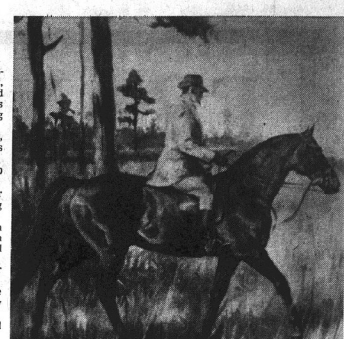

6. The use of stallions shall be at the discretion of the show committee.

7. The use of tie downs and chain curbs is not permitted.

8. Horses winning in any of the classes may not compete in either of the two classes.

9. For elimination of ties, the judge may ask contestants to dismount and mount and/or extend a walk, trot or lope.

10. Loss of mount is automatic disqualification.

TENNESSEE WALKING HORSE, one of many breeds to compete in 16 individual contests this Sunday at the All-Western Horse Show sponsored by the Granite City Rotary club. The Tennessee Walker has been a popular American horse for over 100 years.

'Friendly' Russia Trying to Make Its People Hate America

(The "Peace or Peaceful Co-existence" American Bar Association study which appeared in the last issue also included the following excerpts which further illuminate the charges facing the United States in the cold war.)

For nearly half a century, Communists in and out of power have systematically perverted a vicious and thoroughly distorted picture of the West in general and the United States in particular.

Despite the ups and downs of international politics, through periods of "relaxation" as well as periods of tension, and even while Communist leaders have their biggest smiles, this false view has been drummed into the citizens of Communist countries and has filled the airwaves and the printed page.

Throughout the entire Communist world this distorted picture of the West has become a component part of the Party line. From an early age, students are taught that Western countries, led by the U. S., are possessed by a burning hatred for the Communist system, and are doing everything in their power to destroy Communist Party rule and to re-establish the "wretched and inhuman capitalist system."

All the mass media of communication are harnessed for the purpose of getting the basic message across, and any attempt to present a more balanced view is immediately suppressed.

"Hatred of the West" is an attitude to be cultivated, not eliminated, in the Red's view. When Western countries express their desire for peace, the Communist Party apparatus decries any such expression as a move to "deceive" the masses. Peace is merely temporary, lasting only as long as the interests of the Communists are served by it. The Communist teaching on alliances and coalitions also deals with the question of temporary groups and "transmission belts" which, while not openly Communist, may at a given time support Communist policy objectives.

The tactic employed with respect to such groups is to infiltrate them, and to attempt to manipulate them without making their outright pro-Communist orientation obvious. With the intensification of the war in Vietnam, there is greater emphasis on "volunteer movements" protesting the involvement of the United States in southeast Asia.

The steady pressure of the "masses" on the U. S. government is designed to lead to the slow deterioration of American will to resist Communist aggression and eventually to complete withdrawal from Vietnam—leaving a clear field for a Communist takeover.

Support for "wars of liberation" Whereas the national liberation movement only a few years ago "was no more than a potential reserve of the world socialist revolution," today it has become a vital component of the entire revolutionary process. Communist support for the national liberation movement is designed to enhance the prestige of the Socialist camp and to promote the moral and political isolation of the "imperialists."

Any War a 'Just War' The Communist camp has been afforded to support the most radical demand of extremist groups in all the underdeveloped countries without doing political damage to their own cause.

Science and the Quad-Cities

Breaking the Law-of Physics

(American Institute of Physics) A physicist faced with the violation of a previously dependable law of physics feels something like the manager of a one-day sale. He just hopes the sale will come out of the immediate chaos.

In recent years, physicists have made more and more use of the symmetry of nature to guide their research.

It might be said that whether an experiment is run left-to-right or right-to-left, forward or backward in time, using matter or antimatter, the same laws of physics should predict the results it will have.

Unhappily, things have not worked out so nicely.

Symmetry Disregarded The latest violation of a symmetry principle has been found in the never-over world of subatomic particles where the complete equivalence of matter and antimatter has turned out to be not so equivalent after all.

At Brookhaven National Laboratory's Alternating Gradient Synchrotron, scientists from Columbia University and The State University of New York at Stony Brook appear to be a little "more antimatter" than antimatter.

Mental Health Tax Prospects Dim

Unless Justification Can Be Shown

A time-honored concept comes to mind in considering the Madison county mental health tax referendum. It is that government should be only as big as needed, leaving as much of each paycheck as possible for each citizen to spend on his own, including voluntary giving. Services should be added only in those fields which are neglected or cannot be solved by other means.

Mental health clinics such as the one in the Quad-Cities have been financed by a combination of United Fund assistance (voluntary gifts from workers and employers) and state grants (payments by close relatives of people residing in institutions). Because this has been the case, it was surprising to learn of the sudden decision to schedule an election for Nov. 8 on providing up to $860,000 in new property taxes yearly for much the same purpose.

There is no question but that the outpatient psychiatric and counseling centers are providing invaluable service by helping people remain in productive roles rather than entering state hospitals.

It may be that current programs are proving inadequate in certain respects. Probably those operating the clinics would be the first to point this out. But if such needs were made known, the public would then have an opportunity to explore various ways of meeting them.

The proposed shift to property tax financing with little or no public discussion seems absurd. Its prospects for public approval will be dim unless a fuller case can be presented.

New Art Form Utilizes Low-Value Steel Byproduct

"Beauty is in the eye of the beholder" and Carl Townsend, a Granite City Steel Co. welder, has demonstrated the gift of beholding beauty in slag, a material not usually thought of in esthetic terms.

That he is right is demonstrated by the fact that all who view his finished artworks are impressed. Anchoring small bits of slag onto a blank surface with wire, he has produced 20 new art forms, each effectively conveying a scene or mood to the viewer.

Byproducts of his hobby are twofold — a

LONG-TERM HOLDINGS
USUALLY BRING PROFITS
Q. My broker has been trying to get me to buy mutual funds. He says I can't go wrong because mutuals represent such a broad cross-section of industry. He says I can't go wrong because I can't lose. He says I can't go wrong because I can't lose. He says I can't go wrong because I can't lose.

What do you think? Am I really guaranteed an exceptional income in a mutual fund? I think your broker took his illustration right out of Forbes Magazine. In its August 1965 issue, Forbes Magazine made an analysis of mutual funds. The issue your broker suggested was outperformed by 75 of the 84 funds that can be found in the book.

A growth from $100 to $283.22 in 12 years doesn't sound bad, but why didn't your broker recommend the mutual fund that, according to Forbes, increased that $100 to $694.24 in the same period?

Profits Without Genius
It's dangerous to take for granted that any figure shown to you represents exceptional performance. Stock investing has been a profitable experience since 1853, and you didn't have to be a genius to get very good results.

If you had bought General Motors at its low in 1953, each $100 investment would have grown to $283.22 by 1965. If you had bought GM at its high in 1953, each $100 investment would have grown to $694.24 by 1965. ## Park-School Combination Is a Double Benefit to Taxpayers

Opening of the new Parkway grade school next week will mark the first time a new Granite City school has been built with a combination campus and park.

The plan has long been regarded as sound, but there were complications in involving two different governmental agencies, the school district and park district, in a construction bond issue.

The solution was to trade a corner of Worthen Park, creating the Parkway campus, for part of the Frohardt school grounds, converting the latter into a neighborhood park.

Washrooms in a special wall-off section of the school are made available in the summer to those using the park's playground and other recreation facilities. The school is in session, the proximity of the spacious park proves a larger than usual play and physical education area for pupils. The public is taxed only once, not twice, and gains year-around usage.

A similar cooperative venture is the joint school-city program to extend a sidewalk from the as yet partly inaccessible school along a proposed extension of Maryville road.

If the community service of the school is to be fully used for its intended purpose, one more cooperative project will need to be planned and carried out—paving of Maryville road from its present terminus at the school north to Stratford lane.

Government Should End Its Double Standard on Water Pollution

The U. S. Budget Bureau should give strong consideration this fall to the Army Engineer Corps alternative proposals for inland dumping areas in connection with Great Lakes region dredging.

The Engineer Corps currently is depositing sludge and silt dredged from the Chicago River into Lake Michigan, and both the federal Water Pollution Control Administration have rejected Illinois authorities' initial plea to halt the pollution.

The federal government is obviously in an awkward position in the matter. The principal reasons it gives for current lake dumping are the contents of the dredging is needed and that it is cheaper to dispose of the material in the lake than to transport it inland. Both assertions may be true. But a better example will need to be set by the government, which is urging states, municipalities, and businesses to eliminate water pollution; it should not be less tolerant of its own conduct.

Now that alternate procedures are being developed, the various agencies involved should help them prompt attention — and approval if feasible.

Why Not a Siesta Time in U. S.?

(C. H. Grose, editor of Sir Bill Paterson's "Johnston's" column, writes a very practical case. Even when he puts tongue in cheek to kid his readers a bit, his spot seems to make sense. Witness this editorial, one of the finalists in annual judging by the International Conference of Weekly Newspapers.)

Those of us who live in northern climates have a tendency to write about it, but we don't do it. We have no solution to this problem. But a wise mother would tell her children to work it so that all of them are doing it together at least part of the time, allowing her to get her own nap in.

The retail merchant should really appreciate a siesta period each day. There are two major reasons for this.

The first is that right after lunch is frequently a slow time of day. This means that costly help wouldn't need to be working when there are no customers around.

In a return to turn-of-the-century store hours, when every store was open 12 hours a day, today's merchant would appreciate a break in an already-tired day.

Should Congress get ready to service a daily siesta period there will be those, claiming to be non-conformists, who say that is enforcing too much regulation to make all of us take naps every day.

A close examination of these people will probably result in a short nap. As we know, they are already sleeping during the siesta period, or that they are persons opposed to any sort of progress, and that if our nation had to depend upon them for anything, we would never be able to rise to the great world that we are today.

There is, of course, nothing of a short nap. As we know, they are already sleeping during the siesta period, or that they are persons opposed to any sort of progress, and that if our nation had to depend upon them for anything, we would never be able to rise to the great world that we are today.

The Law Serves You

Legal Aspects of Buying on Time

(A public service of the Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations) Buying "on time" has become a way of life in our society. Of the millions of transactions of this type entered into every year, certainly a small percent even become the subject of litigation.

Among other problems which arise when there is a breach of the agreement is the question of what rights the buyer has in the goods.

Also, what can the seller do in reclaiming the item or in obtaining the balance due him under the contract?

Like most contracts, an agreement to buy goods "on time" imposes an obligation on each party. When one party fails to perform his part of the bargain, the other person can exercise the remedies given him under the agreement or otherwise provided by law.

Occasionally, we think of a breach in an installment contract in terms of the buyer failing to make payments when due.

It should be remembered, however, the provisions of this act are intended to protect buyers from the relatively few merchants who resort to sharp practices.

Repossession, Judgment When a buyer has failed to keep up the payments, he must expect the consequences of losing the item through repossession, a judgment for the amount plus costs, or perhaps loss of the goods through repossession. From a re-sale of the goods for less than the amount due.

Best protection against being placed in this position is knowledgeable buying practices. When an economic change in the family indicates problems of this type are approaching, it is good preventive law to consult with a merchant or a financial counselor of your lawyer.

The "Law Serves You" is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or consult any law without consulting his lawyer.

Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

Among other matters covered under the act are:
1. The size of type in which the contract must be printed.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

AUGUST 22, 1916
Judge Justice B. Eaton of Edgewood, sometimes evidenced a desire to sever friends in information for himself and base his decision upon his findings.

Recently, farmers north of Granite City complained that the new levee cut off the drainage of their farm property. In a petition presented to Judge Eaton, the farmers contended that the levee was failing in its mission and did not carry the water off.

The farmers asked for permission to cut the levee in order to let the water out and permit it to flow into the sloughs which drain into the river.

The judge would announce no decision in the matter Saturday, and on Sunday he motored out where the pipe is located. At that point the water had gathered in the slough, and it was quite deep, andurchins were enjoying a dip in the pool.

Eaton tried to persuade the boys to swim out to the end of the pipe and see if the water was going through, but the boys plying improvement.

Lower drug prices...

Most modern drugs—the kind that get you back on your feet so fast—go down in price after the introduction of Lower.

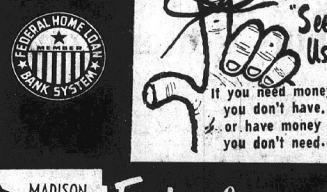

Mass production helps pay for the costly research which helps develop these new medicines.

And because they almost always reduce the total cost of getting well, modern prescription drugs are your biggest health value.

We feature uniformly fair prescription prices, always.

GC Jaycees Resume Regular Activities

Granite City Jaycees caught their collective breath last week after an unbroken five-month period of extensive community activity, sat back and reviewed the most successful year in the chapter's history. Twenty-six members attended a regular meeting held at Tri-Mor Bowl.

Awards were announced, including a prized chapter citation, the "Blue Chip Award," presented to the local group by the Illinois Jaycee organization.

"Jaycee-of-the-Month" honors went to Darrell Crews, general chairman of the 1966 Miss Granite City Pageant, for June and to William Herbst for July. The latter served as registration director for the Illinois Junior Sports Jambooree.

Letters commending the local Jaycee chapter on the successful jambooree were relayed to members. A number of congratulatory statements were read from out-of-town parents and chaperones; the Granite City Steel Management club; a St. Louis high school coach; representatives of the Illinois Youth Commission and the Charleston Chamber of Commerce; and the Granite City Rotary club. The Rotarians also cited the Jaycees for ticket donations made to the Coordinated Youth office here.

The "Blue Chip Award" is presented annually to a chapter for high caliber performance, specifically in the areas of planned programming, budgeting and membership increase. The local club and the Allen Jaycees were the only chapters to receive the honor in District Eight.

Boyd Presley, GC Jaycee president, conducted the business session, with the invocation offered by Wayne Watkins.

Ever hear of "pruritus"?

Although you may not be familiar with this name, you've undoubtedly been its victim—and frequently. In fact, every time you've had an itch. You see, pruritus is the technical name for any and every type of itching. This irritating skin condition may be caused by a great many things.

In the summertime, the air conditioning unit may be the villain. For air-conditioners not only refrigerate the air, but dry the atmosphere as well. As a result, the humidity is too low to provide the skin with the moisture it needs. Thus, the skin develops an "air conditioning" dermatitis.

In the winter time, the heating system may be to blame, for too dries out the atmosphere, robbing your skin of moisture. Sometimes pruritus may be due to your occupation. For example:

Washwoman's itch—usually caused by alkalies in soaps. Baker's itch—due to bleaching agents in flour, organisms in ### yeast or oils in flavoring agents.

Bricklayer's itch—caused by the lime content in cement. Grain itch—due to mites (tiny bugs) that infest grain.

Mites that burrow under the skin are also the cause of scabies, more popularly known as "The Seven Year Itch."

Perhaps the most common cause of itching is woolen clothing. Wool not only irritates the skin, but also reduces perspiration needed to keep the skin cool.

How can you relieve intensive itching? Bathe the area in lukewarm water containing a cup of starch, bran or oatmeal. Applications of calamine lotion with oil and cool compresses will help, too. What ever you do, resist that urge to scratch. It could cause inflammation or even infection.

If you encounter persistent itching, and can't determine an offending agent, don't hesitate to seek professional help. It could signal such serious disorders as blood, liver and kidney diseases, as well as diabetes.

2nd Annual Farm Tour Planned Next Monday

Truman W. May, Madison county farm advisor, is reminding area farmers in particular and interested local businessmen that the second annual Business-Industry-Agriculture Tour will be held next Monday, Aug. 22.

The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service, has arranged a farm tour somewhat similar to a tour they held last summer in the south-western part of the county.

They noted that the group will travel to four farms in Ft. Russell and Chouteau townships, starting at 11:15 a.m. at the farms of Melvin and Harold Balsters and then going to the farms of Virgil and William Heepke, Frederick and Paul Heepke and C. C. Leach. The tour will end at 4:15 p.m.

Farm operations to be seen will include egg production, dairying, beef cattle, hogs and melon and grain production.

The Madison county raises poultry, and the two Heepke farms feature dairy cattle, grain and beef cattle, respectively, and the Leach farm specializes in grain and vegetable produce.

Air-conditioned buses will be provided for transportation, but lunches will be served, and the Madison county farm advisory group will provide the commentary during both the tour and stops at different farms.

Those interested in taking part may include the Chamber of Commerce at TR 6-6400 or 1831 Delmar avenue.

Jaycees to Invite Holiday Drivers To Take a Break

Granite City Jaycees will incorporate a new traffic safety feature, "Operation Rest Stop," into the general safety programs planned by law enforcement officials for the coming Labor Day holiday weekend.

To encourage travel-weary motorists to take a short break and relieve the monotony of highway driving, members of the local young men's service club are planning to erect a large outdoor adjacent to the temporary detour on Interstate 270 to Route Three north of Granite City.

Motorists will be invited to stop, stretch and enjoy free coffee and doughnuts, Warren Markell, Jaycee project chairman, explained. In addition to the Jaycees, Illinois state police have agreed to provide a troop of officers who will relay information to travelers.

Markell said Jaycees at Columbia, Ill., had offered the rest stop service for the past two Labor Day weekends, with highway officials describing it as worthwhile and successful. An average of one highway fatality had occurred each Labor Day holiday in the Columbia area prior to the program being implemented, and none within the past two years for the same period.

Although credit for the lack of fatalities could not be directly attributed to the project, Markell quoted state police officials as saying that motorists returning home on the final day of the holiday weekend have been involved in many serious highway accidents.

To initiate "Operation Rest Stop," the GC Jaycees plan to operate the facility on Monday, Sept. 5, only the chairman said. If well received, the project may be expanded next year to a longer period.

Unfortunately, Accutron® looks like a watch

We don't call it a watch. All the parts that make a watch fast or slow have been left out. The balance wheel, springs, staff and screws. Accutron does not use these parts. Instead, a tiny tuning fork keeps time through vibrations that are battery powered. Accutron time is so precise that we guarantee average monthly accuracy within 60 seconds, which averages out to about 2 seconds a day. And we know owners who have not gained or lost this in a year.

However, don't let this make you think that Accutron prices are higher than a fine watch. (Remember, a lot of parts were left out.) We believe the Accutron timepiece to be the finest and most precise wrist timepiece ever made. We have a wide variety of handsome models, $125 and up.

Teachers, Younger Students Enrolled

Despite a modified curriculum to fit the needs of area teachers, summer school at Southwestern Illinois University's Southwestern campus has a full complement of students in all fields of academic endeavor.

An increase in the number of courses in the Education Division is allowing teachers, off for the summer, to work on advanced degrees and fulfill the requirements of provisional certificates.

To aid area teachers, special eight-week sessions are offered during summer school in most categories of education.

In the eight-week session, classes meet more often than in the regular 12-week sessions. Other divisions also offer eight-week programs, but most are in education.

Special Workshops
The Education Division also offers special workshops designed to fit specific needs of teachers.

One workshop, in reading, is being co-sponsored by the university and Central Midwestern Regional Educational Laboratory. It will last for two weeks.

The workshop presents new practices and ideas on how to offer in the fall, winter and spring quarters. The only major subjects not offered are science courses that require laboratory facilities. This is due to the science and technology building not being completed.

4194 Enrolled
Despite the special curriculum offered for graduate students, the undergraduate student still comprises the bulk of the student body.

Of 4194 students enrolled for the summer quarter, 3130 are undergraduates and 1064 are graduate students.

As construction continues on the campus, classes are restricted to the Peck Classroom building and Lovejoy Memorial Library.

Some students say that air-conditioning in the two buildings is the prime motivating factor for class attendance.

Other attractions of summer school are watermelon feasts on the mall and free movies in the library auditorium.

The proposals are submitted under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Titles I, II and III. Phases covered under these titles are aid to the deprived, expansion of library facilities, and adoption of innovations and practices.

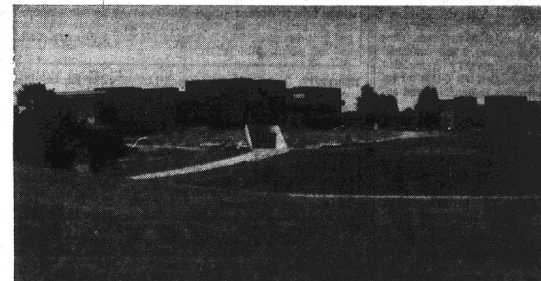

The course, which is accredited, encourages those concerned to seek out the main problems in their districts, in the areas outlined, and develop actual proposals to be submitted to the federal government.

Rink Site Being Prepared, Warming House First Project

Current information on the Granite City park district's ice rink and recreation center, now under construction in Wilson Park, and a resume of some of the problems connected with the project were related Thursday afternoon to members of the Granite City Optimist club.

Addressing 30 members at a luncheon meeting in the YMCA were Frank Rea, park board secretary, and Sylvester Dulgeroff, a partner in the architectural firm which designed the half-million-dollar facility.

Rea recalled that the first time an artificial rink was investigated by the park district in 1959, the commissioners decided to forego the project due to the cost. The estimated figure, provided by a Detroit rink building concern, was $257,000, he reported.

The park official explained that to keep costs within the boundaries of the $475,000 bond issue, approved by voters, plus a contingency fund set up by the board, several alternative features have been incorporated into the rink-center plans. He added that these revisions were considered necessary when the lowest base bid for the project, amounting to $530,000.

Despite changes to meet available finances, Rea stressed that the overall 115x205 rink size and the general building features have been retained.

Dulgeroff reported that the facility's roof will be the second largest of its type in this area, the larger one covering the St. Louis Arena. He added that the local ice rink will be only 15 feet shorter than the large St. Louis ice rink.

Clearance of the rink site is now underway, Dulgeroff told the group, with the warming house area to be the initial phase of construction. Installation of concrete pillars to support the roof will follow.

At that point, he explained, everything will be in readiness to pour the concrete rink surface, an operation which must be accomplished in a continuous pour.

Boy Bitten by Dog

Harvey Wright, six, of 109 Slough road, Venice, was bitten in the right ankle Thursday afternoon by a dog owned by Gerald Pearson, 109a Slough road, according to a report to Venice police. The boy was not hospitalized. The dog was taken to the dog pound for observation.

One Hubcap Stolen

The right rear hubcap, valued at $24, was stolen from a 1966 auto owned by Nick Neunzerling, 2802 Cleveland blvd., while it was parked at his home Aug. 14, he reported Thursday.

Picture Window Shot

Walter Ameling, 2123 Waterman avenue, reported Thursday that a hole had been shot in the picture window of his home during the night.

Man Loses Wallet, $20

John D. Monroe, 3701 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 4:35 p.m. Thursday that he had lost $20. They were his black leather wallet containing $20 and papers.

Dr. Koch Elected to Academy Membership

Dr. Felicia Dorothy Koch of Granite City has been elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, a national association of 28,000 family doctors, it was announced today.

As a member of the AAGP, Dr. Koch will be required to complete 150 hours of postgraduate medical study every three years. The program, unique among medical associations, is designed to help member physicians keep abreast of the latest scientific developments in medicine.

Founded in 1947, the AAGP is the country's second largest national medical association.

Two Driving Charges

James H. Cannon, Edwardsville, and David L. Weatherly, East St. Louis, were charged with careless driving at East St. Louis, reported at 4:35 p.m. Thursday that he had lost $20. They were his black leather wallet containing $20 and papers.
